TWO LEADING COMPANIES REJOIN AHIOS IN 2011

OneSource Document Management and Rowan Document Solutions Rejoin Leading Industry Association to Establish Standards of Excellence for Release of Information Industry

BOSTON, Mass., September 20, 2011 — The Association of Health Information Outsourcing Services (AHIOS), an organization committed to promoting excellence in the handling and dissemination of confidential, patient-identifiable information, today announced that OneSource Document Management and Rowan Document Solutions have rejoined its growing association.

Lead by CEO Fig Gungor, OneSource Document Management provides Release of Information (ROI), document scanning and electronic document management solutions to major hospitals and healthcare practices, as well as insurance companies and other Fortune 500 companies. Based in New York, OneSource has specialized for over 20 years in providing clients with highly customized and innovative solutions. Under the leadership of Gungor, the company has been recognized nationally as an expert in healthcare compliance issues related to the ROI process.

“In today’s healthcare climate that is focused largely on compliance with healthcare reform initiatives, associations such as AHIOS are crucial,” said Gungor. “In rejoining the association this year, I look forward to collaborating with fellow industry leaders to help ensure that the ROI outsourcing industry is at the forefront of reform-driven challenges.”

Also rejoining AHIOS is Rowan Document Solutions, which provides document management solutions for healthcare organizations and businesses throughout the New York Metropolitan area. For 25 years, the company has been a leader in healthcare ROI for the metro area’s premier healthcare organizations. From photocopying to data-hosting, its extensive profile of services has had an effect on a wide range of clientele. With an operations center functioning seven days a week and couriers on the ground daily, Rowan Document Solutions is able to provide a quick turnaround for its customers. CEO Greg Rowan and President Joe Rowan lead the company's initiatives.

"It has been our goal as a pioneer in healthcare ROI to remain at the forefront technologically while maintaining our quality of service. We strive to be a company that provides the extra when needed," said Joe Rowan.

For more than a decade, AHIOS has worked to sustain its mission by increasing awareness of the value, importance and complexity of the outsourcing industry and establish standards of excellence in the release of medical information process. One of the most critical components of the organization's mission is to pursue fair and equitable treatment of the outsourcing industry through legislative, regulatory and legal processes.

"To have these two companies rejoin the association this year highlights the tremendous importance of industry collaboration at this time of great change in healthcare," said Mariela Twiggs, president of AHIOS. "I speak for all of the members when I say we are pleased to once again welcome OneSource and Rowan to AHIOS. We anticipate that the leaders of these organizations, who are seasoned experts in the ROI outsourcing field, will be great assets as we strive to navigate in this new era of healthcare."
